REGULAR SEPTEMBER TERM OF CIRCUIT COURT CONVENES

Small Crowd in Attendance;
Three Jury Trials
So Far

The regular September term of the Ohio Circuit Court convened Monday morning with Judge R. W. Slack presiding and Clerk A. C. Porter, in charge of the records. Commonwealth's Attorney C. E. Smith and County Attorney A. D. Kirk were in attendance to look after the interests of the State.

The following petit jurors reported and were impaneled: J. J. Keown, Charles Smith, W. A. Lloyd, Lonnie Cook, Thad Barnard, W. P. Midkiff, Ed Forman, L. C. Hoover, Jr., Joe S. Bennett, William Lake, Birdie Hammond, James C. Bennett, Sherman Coleman, R. E. Eudaley, Dudley Plummer, John F. Coleman, John A. Raymond, Dyer Davis and Ernest Morris.

The following jurors were drawn and ordered summoned for today: O. W. Williams, Ed Ashby, L. E. Ward, Fred Woodburn, M. V. Johnson, M. B. Crowder, Henry L. Rinder, W. B. Taylor, J. F. Hicks, G. G. Day, C. F. Boswell, H. W. Stevens, W. H. Maddox, J. P. Southard, Allen Johnson, T. H. Tatum, John Pirtle, J. B. Blankenship, J. A. Edge and E. C. Baird.

The following cases were set for the 8th day, viz: Commonwealth of Ky. vs. Beaver Dam Coal Co. (2 cases); Com. vs. Rensler Coal Co.; Com. vs. Rockport Coal Co. (2 cases); Com. vs. Broadway Coal Mining Co.; Com. vs. Holt Bros. Mining Company. The following cases were continued generally: N. P. Dennis vs. W. H. Maddox; J. T. Carter vs. H. L. Tucker; Louisville Grocery Co. vs. Ensey Raymer; Lon Beller vs. P. S. Coleman, &c.; National Fire Ins. Co. vs. Cicero Rogers, &c.; T. W. Wallace vs. American Railway Express Co.; Charles Lunsford vs. George Kirkwood, &c.

The following cases were dismissed: W. H. Maddox vs. W. K. Graves; A. W. Morgan vs. A. K. Miller; Citizens Bank vs. T. P. Carson &c.

In the case of Naomi Vinson vs. Charles B. Vinson the plaintiff moved for temporary alimony of $100 per month and a hearing thereon was set for the 9th day.

In the suit of Annie Ferguson vs. William Ferguson plaintiff moved for $40 temporary alimony and hearing was set for 9th day.

The suits of E. A. White vs. Southern Blue-Gas Co., and Walker Myrtle vs. Same were set for the 8th day of the term.

The suit of the Acme Jones Co. vs. W. E. Ellis, &c. was tried before a jury and verdict returned in favor of defendant.

H. Wilson Co., of Fordsville, recovered of Clarence C. Lee, of Pittsburg, the sum of $89, interest and costs.

H. T. Holbrook vs. Huff Colliery Co., default judgment for $80, interest and costs.

The suit of J. J. Jarnagin vs. Bond Bros. was on trial at press hour. In this action the plaintiff asks $1000 damages for alleged breach of contract for the purchase of cross-ties.

BASE BALL

The McHenry Majestics played Central City, at the latter place Sunday afternoon. The game was hard fought and very close, the result being a score of 2 to 1 in favor of Central City. Battery for the Majestics, Parrot and Phelps.

As usual McHenry fans were on the job in full force. A special train of five coaches made the round trip. Music was furnished by Beaver Dam colored band.

Other Baseball Results

At Hartford, Thursday: Provo, 9; Beaver Dam, 4.

At Hartford, Friday: Beaver Dam, 9; Provo, 4.

At Hartford, Saturday: Provo, 2; Beaver Dam, 1.

At Hartford, Sunday: Equality, 5; Hartford, 2.

Miss Mamie Bennett and Mrs. Charlotte Taylor left yesterday for Livermore where they will be the guests of Miss Bennett's sister, Mrs. Ed Johnson, and Mr. Johnson for about two weeks.

WORLD METHODIST CONFERENCE CALLS FOR MILITANT CHRISTIANITY

London, Sept. 15.—The world's Methodist conference today, drew up an address for circulation in Methodist churches throughout the world calling for "aggressive militant christianity."

The address read:
"We need more nerve and more audacity. We summon you to aggressive militant christianity. We welcome the emancipation of women and hail them joyfully as fellow workers."

"We have heard the call for a union of churches. Our first duty is to heal our own divisions and to call our Methodist family to greater unity than we now enjoy."

The conference sent fraternal greetings to the assembly of German evangelical churches now meeting in Stuttgart and adopted a resolution thanking the American government for providing a site in Washington for a statute to Bishop Francis Asbury, considered the founder of Methodism in the United States.

Bishop James Cannon, Jr., Methodist Episcopal church, south, reviewed the prohibition struggle in the United States and analyzed its results saying:

"The inescapable fact remains that the liquor traffic has forever been branded as an outlaw by the government of the United States."

Bishop Cannon said the Americans entered the late war not for any sordid reason but because the American people believed in justice and righteousness.

BANNER DELEGATION OF OHIO COUNTY YOUNG PEOPLE LEAVING FOR COLLEGE

The encouraging increase in interest in higher education among the young people of the county is graphically indicated by the large number of our boys and girls leaving for college this fall.

Among those who have gone to Lexington to matriculate in the University of Kentucky are: Miss Martha Carolyn Pate, Messrs. John Allen Wilson, Glenn Tinsley, Elijah Thomas, Byron Williams and Powell Tichenor, of Hartford; Marshal Barnes and Birkhead Barnes, of Beaver Dam; and William Maddox, of McHenry. Mr. Howard Glenn, a former Hartford boy, is also re-entering the University this fall and will complete his course there in the spring. Miss Sallye Shultz will enter the Western Normal at Bowling Green.

From Beaver Dam Irwin Casbier will go to Georgetown College; Messrs. Victor Willis and Shelton Alfred will return to the Louisville College of Dentistry; Mr. Whittier Rogers will re-enter Centre College, Danville; and Misses Allenna Leach and Carrie Parker will go to Bowling Green to attend the Western Normal.

GROOM GETS $500 POLICY AGAINST RAIN AT WEDDING

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 15.—An insurance policy for $500 against unfavorable weather for his wedding day was issued recently to a Boston man, a Hartford insurance company official stated today.

The bridegroom had declared he wished to avoid extra expense should rain alter the carrying out of arrangements.

The company found the risk a good one as the sun shone.

INJURED BY AUTO

Walton, the little son of Mr. Gordon Young, of Beaver Dam, was painfully injured Monday afternoon, when run over by an automobile. It seems that the car driven by Mr. Wayne Rock, transfer man, was proceeding along Main street when the boy ran out from behind a parked car. The boy's condition is not serious.

NEW OIL WELL

The Smith Grove Oil Co., brought in a new well on the Louis Brown farm about six miles above town last Wednesday at a depth of five hundred feet. It was "shot" Monday and promises to produce about ten barrels per day.

Mr. James A. Tate, of Rockport, Ky., was an appreciated caller one day last week.

MINERS' UNION HEADS NATIONAL MEETING

Indianapolis Conference to Fix
Terms of Wage Demands
For Next Year

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 19.—Discussion of wage scales were interspersed today with gossip regarding internal affairs of the organization as delegates from the coal fields gathered here tonight for the opening of the biennial convention of the United Mine Workers of America. The convention starts tomorrow.

Delegates today began informal conversations regarding the wage demands which the miners of the bituminous and anthracite fields will submit to the operators to replace the present agreement which expires next March 31. Considerable interest was attached to the expression which John L. Lewis, president of the miners, would make in regard to the wage demands in his opening address tomorrow. Mr. Lewis, in the past, has declared unalterable opposition to wage reductions.

Arrival of Alexander Howat, president of the Kansas district of the miners' organization and credited with being the leader of radicals was expected to precipitate some discussion regarding Mr. Lewis' administration.

"Coal operators in the Mingo county, W. Va., field are not expected to be allowed to dictate to the coal miners of that field what labor organization they may join," Samuel Pascoe, Ashland, Ky., president of District No. 37, United Mine Workers of America, who is in Indianapolis to attend the national convention of the union, said tonight.

Mr. Pascoe said the American people will not allow a few captains of industry to tell them what they must do or what they shall not do. The one great question confronting the American people is whether these interests may take away from them that for which their forefathers fought—the right to govern themselves by a government for the people, he said.

CROMWELL MAN IN THE TOILS OF LAW

Guy Faught, of Cromwell, was arrested last Tuesday by Sheriff Bratcher and Deputy Sheriff Tichenor on a charge of obtaining money by false pretense. The accused was brought to Hartford and put under bond to answer to the next grand jury.

It is alleged by the complainants that Faught procured their signatures to a note by falsely representing that certain other sureties would sign it and that he did not expend the money borrowed as a payment on the purchase price of land, as he had represented to them he would.

GENTRY—ASKINS

Miss Myrtle Gentry, of near Narrows, and Mr. George Askins, of near Dundee, were united in marriage in the millinery department of Fair & Co.'s store in this city, Saturday morning, Rev. Russell Walker, pastor of Hartford Baptist church officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gentry and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonza Askins. They are popular young people and have bright prospects for a pleasant and successful life's journey as husband and wife. They have our best wishes.

BENTON—TAYLOR

Miss Mary Benton and Mr. Cleveland Taylor, both of Wyox, were united in matrimony at the residence of Rev. R. E. Fuqua, in Hartford, Saturday.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quenton Benton and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Taylor. Both are popular young people and have the very best wishes of their many friends for a happy and successful married life.

BAPTIST REVIVAL

A revival meeting will be conducted at Pond Run Baptist church, beginning the night of Sept. 28th. The pastor, Rev. R. E. Fuqua will be assisted by Rev. J. W. Phillips, of Deanfield, Ky.

DEFEAT OF SCHOOL AMEND- MENTS IN INDIANA FELT HERE

Party Ranks in Tangle Over the
Two Amendments to Be Voted Upon at November Election

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 17.—Those Kentuckians who are battling for the adoption of constitutional amendments to change certain features of the state's educational system, received something of an eye opener in the results of an election in Indiana several weeks ago.

The sister state north of the Ohio voted upon a question that is to be submitted to the voters of Kentucky in November. The proposition was whether or not the office of superintendent of schools, now elective, shall be made appointive. In Indiana it was defeated.

It was a shock to those public officials and educational leaders, who claim to have a panacea for educational ills in the two amendments which go before the voters this year, when the result from Indiana became known. To those who have been watching the press of the countryside and converse with the inhabitants of the rural neighborhoods, the vote was what was expected.

Until the battle for and against the amendments came out into the open, it was amusing to watch the efforts to place political blame for the opposition. The leading Republican daily in the state accused the Democratic press of standing in the way of all progress because the majority of the rural publications which are Democratic in this state, opposed the amendments.

Whatever guilt there may lie in fighting the proposed changes, however, soon was shared by a prominent Republican, Liburn G. Phelps, secretary of the Republican state central committee, announced that he had accepted the leadership of the "antis."

Chesley H. Searcy, chairman of the committee, said he was willing to leave the matter to those experts in it, and is taking no part. It appears, however, that certain G. O. P. leaders are piqued that a member of the committee should have become involved in the squabble.

Open fire from within his own party was directed at Mr. Phelps by George Colvin, superintendent of public instruction. He contended that all of the Republican officeholders were pledged by their 1919 platform to the changes proposed, but Mr. Phelps showed that Mr. Colvin quoted only a portion of the platform plank in his attack, and that far from being pledged to making the office appointive, the plank commits the party to election or reelection under non-partisan emblems.

Governor Edwin P. Morrow projected himself into the debate in addressing a school meeting in Louisville. He supports the two amendments. To demonstrate his lack of partisanship in the matter Governor Morrow advanced the names of five Democrats and four Republicans he would place upon the board to select the superintendent of instruction and direct the welfare of the schools.

The five Democrats he has selected are Lewis C. Humphrey, editor of a Louisville newspaper; Morgan Hughes, of Bowling Green; Charles H. Ellis, of Sturgis; Mrs. Samuel M. Wilson, of Lexington, Democratic vice chairman of the 1920 campaign, and Henry Berry, Owensboro. The four Republicans selected are R. C. Ballard, Thurston, Louisville, historian; Lem Putnam, Ashland; Miss Belle Bennett, of Richmond, and Luke Dudley, of Flemingsburg.

The dispute rages over the merits of whether or not the amendments will take the schools out of politics. Those who favor them say they will: their opponents say not. Gov. Morrow insists that their passage is vital to the welfare of the schools. The rural opposition centers about the fact that it is another move to take from the public the control of its own affairs and to centralize power in an executive. It is clear that sides in the matter are not being taken according to political affiliations.

Attorneys John T. Rone, of Centertown, and D. Baker Rhoads, of Beaver Dam, were in town Monday attending Court.

325 INDICTED FOR MINE BLOODSHED

Logan, W. Va., Sept. 17.—Three hundred and twenty-five names were included in a blanket indictment, charging murder, returned by a Logan County special grand jury today. The indictments followed an investigation of recent disturbances on the Logan-Boone County border.

Among the names are those of C. F. Keeney and Fred Mooney, president and secretary, respectively, of District No. 17, United Mine Workers of America, and H. W. Blizard, also a United Mine Workers official. In addition, 200 indictments charging insurrection and "pistol-toting" were returned.

The capias in most instances will be sent to the sheriffs of Kenawha and Boone Counties for service where a majority of the indicted men reside.

Based on Killing of Sheriff
The blanket indictment charging those named with being principals and accessories to the killing of John Gore, Deputy Sheriff of Logan County, was based on an alleged violation of the Redman Act. That act classifies such deaths as murder in the first degree.

Gore was killed August 29 in an exchange of shots between armed men and deputy sheriffs in the eastern part of Logan County during the attempted march across that county of a number of men who had announced their intention to proceed into Mingo County, and there protest state martial law invoked several months ago.

Plot "to Foment Revolution"
The special grand jury further held in the indictment that a "conspiracy to inflict bodily harm and punishment" had existed and that as "the result of such conspiracy Gore had come to his death."

The remainder of the indictments charged "conspiracy to foment revolution and insurrection," and "the carrying of weapons in violation of the Johnson Law."

Officials Sought 3 Weeks
Keeney and Mooney have been sought for three weeks, following their indictment at Williamson on charges growing out of a fatal shooting affray in that county during disorders last May.

After making its return to Circuit Judge Robert Bland, the jury was discharged and the capias immediately issued.

While no announcement has been made of the date on which the men will be brought to trial, it was believed generally that the case will be taken up at the October term of the Circuit Court.

Apart from the union officials, the names of those indicted were not made public.

INFANT DIES

Beulah Corinne, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. McInteer, died last Wednesday at midnight. The baby was just twenty-six days old and had never been well since its birth. It had been examined and treated by specialists, but the exact nature of its malady could not be determined.

Funeral services were conducted at the family residence Friday morning at 10 o'clock by Rev. T. T. Frazier. A quartette consisting of Mesdames, E. E. Birkhead and C. E. Smith and Messrs. W. J. Bean and E. E. Birkhead sang a number of touching hymns.

Interment was in Oakwood Cemetery where the little mound was completely hidden by the many beautiful floral offerings. The pallbearers were Messrs. W. H. Barnes, John B. Wilson, W. E. Ellis and W. A. Clark.

Mrs. Laura McInteer, mother of Mr. McInteer, and his sister, Miss Agnes, of Horse Cave, were with the bereaved parents in their time of trial.

FRUITFUL METHODIST REVIVAL

The pastor, Rev. T. T. Frazier, closed a very successful revival at Mt. Hermon Methodist church, Thursday night. The series of meetings continued 10 days and resulted in 16 additions to the church and a general revival of religious fervor. Large congregations were present and much interest shown. The entire membership is rejoicing over the financial report for the conference year, everything having been paid in full.

FORD CAR TURNS TURTLE ON HOOVER HILL

Wreck Results in Serious Injury
to Arthur Miller; Other Passengers Shaken Up

A Ford automobile, driven by Arthur Miller was wrecked Wednesday afternoon about seven miles north of Hartford on the Owensboro road, on what is generally known as Hoover's Hill. The other occupants were Messrs. Archie Clay Johnson, A. King and a stranger attending the Fair, known as "The Glass-Eating Midget." All of the men but Johnson were knocked unconscious and young Miller was seriously injured, the others escaping with a bad shaking up. Drs. A. B. Riley and E. B. Pendleton went immediately to the scene to render first aid, after which the injured man was brought to the home of Mr. Worth Tichenor in Hartford. At first it was feared that he was injured internally, but his injuries did not prove so serious and he is now able to be out.

The party was returning from Owensboro when the accident occurred. The mishap was caused by a broken radius rod. The car left the road and was completely overturned. All the spokes in one of the front wheels were knocked out, but otherwise the car was not seriously damaged.

METHODIST CONFERENCE AT SCOTTSVILLE

The Louisville Conference Methodist church South will convene this morning at Scottsville, Ky. Between 400 and 500 ministers and laymen are expected to attend this conference which will probably continue until Monday noon. Bishop Denny, of Richmond, Va., will preside, this being his fourth year. Twenty-six pastors in this district are expected to attend, as well as eight laymen. There are 85 churches in the Owensboro district, which includes Daviess, McLean, Ohio, Muhlenberg, Hancock, and parts of Breckinridge and Logan counties.

Presiding Elder L. K. May will be able to report quite a number of additions to churches in this district since his taking charge three years ago. It is believed the largest gains registered in the district have been recorded during this period. There are about 60,000 members in the whole conference, and about 3,000 are in this district.

Three Women Missionaries

Five young men have been licensed to preach—W. F. Davidson, Owensboro; James C. Hayden, Owensboro, now in school at Elkton; Marvin Glenn, Calhoun; S. M. Bean, Hartford; William Hill, Ohio county, who at one time was Asst. Prin. of the Hartford school. Messrs. Davidson and Hill will probably attend the conference this week. Mr. Hill was licensed to preach on Friday and recommended for admittance on trial at the conference. Three young women have given their lives to missionary work. They are Miss Willa Duncan, now at Scarritt Bible Training school, Kansas City; Miss Anne Stone, Central City, and Miss Pauline Davis, of Calhoun, both of whom are now at Logan college.

The quota for the Owensboro district on Christian education movement was $20,000. Of this amount 52 per cent has been raised. For the whole M. E. church South, $33,000,000 was asked, and $18,000,000 raised. An objective also of the movement was 5,000 young people to devote their lives to a definite plan for Christian work. This objective will probably be reached. Rev. May says, "More young men are coming into the ministry. For a time conditions were distressing, but the situation is now getting much better. Quite a large number of ministers will be gleaned from the Louisville conference. There are seven districts in the Louisville conference."

TOE REMOVED

Mr. E. J. Thiford, of Beaver Dam, underwent an operation by Dr. P. T. Willis, Monday, in which one of his toes was removed. The toe became infected where a corn had been removed and blood poison resulted. There is a possibility that it may become necessary to remove the entire foot.

FARM EXTRACTS

INFORMATION FROM THE EXPERIMENT STATION — AGRICULTURAL PAPERS AND THE COUNTY AGENT'S OFFICE

Covered Smut Controlled By Sprinkling Treatment

Although stinking or covered smut of wheat is not as prevalent in Kentucky as loose smut it is a serious disease and is responsible for an annual loss of approximately two per cent of the crop, according to W. D. Valleau, plant pathologist at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. The spores of the disease are scattered at thrashing time and lodge on the surface of the kernel thus infecting the seed of the next crop. Demonstrations have shown that the disease may be controlled by sprinkling the seed before planting with a solution of formaldehyde.

In this method of treatment the solution is made by diluting one part of commercial formaldehyde with 320 of water this ratio being equivalent to one pint in 40 gallons of water. Not more than one gallon of the solution will be required for a bushel of grain and some farmers use only a half gallon. Application is made with an ordinary sprinkling can while the seed is being shoveled over from one pile to another. The grain must be so well stirred that every kernel is wet. It is then covered with sacks or other cloth wet with the formaldehyde solution and allowed to stand for a period of about two hours before being spread out to dry. A longer period is apt to result in injury to the seed. It is best to treat the seed just before sowing, according to the recommendations made. This treatment is the same as the bluestone or copper sulphate treatment which is used in some parts of the State.

Pigs Suffer When Mother Is Overfed

Many farmers are guilty of overfeeding their brood sows at farrowing time with the result that the flow of milk is so great that the pigs are thrown off feed, according to animal husbandry specialists. To overcome this condition feeders at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station withhold feed from the sow on the day she farrows giving her nothing but water. For the next two or three days she is given a light feed of shipstuf or middlings in the form of a thin slop. On the fifth day after farrowing corn meal is introduced into the ration which then consists of about one pound of corn meal, four pounds of shipstuf and one-tenth of a pound of tankage. These feeds are then gradually increased until at the end of 10 days the ration consists of three pounds of shipstuf, three pounds of corn meal and one-half of a pound of tankage. At the end of 30 days the feed is composed of seven pounds of corn meal, five pounds of shipstuf or middlings and one pound of tankage. This is considered a full feed and is obtained by gradually increasing the feed from the tenth day. According to the feeders, the amount of feed given the sow should depend on her size, the number of pigs she is suckling and her ability to give milk.

When on full feed the sows should be receiving an average of about four per cent of their live weight in grain each day. This is fed in the form of a thin slop. If skim-milk is to be had it is well to add a limited amount of this to the ration. Some sows have demonstrated that they are capable of giving but little milk and begin to fatten as soon as the feed is increased. In cases of this kind it is necessary to reduce the feed. In a few instances on the station farm a 300 pound sow having eight thrifty pigs has been given as much as 20 pounds of grain each day. Part of this feed however was consumed by the pigs since the troughs are so constructed that the young animals can eat with their mothers when old enough.

164 Nelson Farmers See Culling Methods

Nine poultry culling demonstrations recently held in Nelson County were the means of showing more than 164 poultrymen of that district how to distinguish between the laying and the loafer hens in their flocks. The exhibitions of culling were staged in different communities of the county, those attending each one showing an unusual interest in the method, according to a report of the project. From one-fourth to one-third of the hens handled were found to be culls. Demonstrations on treating hens for lice also were given in connection with the culling work and bulletins and circulars on culling, feeding and managing poultry distributed to those interested. The demonstrations were conducted by County Agent C. L. Hill who cooperated with the farmers of his county and the extension division of the College of Agriculture.

Webster Farmers Plan Co-operative Shipping

Plans have been started by Webster County farmers for the organization of a co-operative livestock shipping association, according to D. G. Card, extension specialist in marketing from the College of Agriculture who is co-operating with those interested in perfecting the project. A committee has already been appointed to go over suggestions for a constitution and by-laws and it is expected that the association will be permanently formed in the near future. Officers at the present time are D. C. Luck, president, and Hume Mahurin, secretary. The association will probably have headquarters at Onton.

Poor Housing Of Machinery Costs Farmers Millions

"Open air housing" of machinery costs Kentucky farmers approximately $3,080,366 a year, according to estimates made by J. B. Kelley, head of the farm engineering section of the College of Agriculture. This amount which was estimated from census reports and experiments conducted to determine the respective life-time of properly and improperly housed farming implements is a fair representation of the annual loss suffered by farmers of the State by leaving machinery in the fields and under trees.

According to the 1920 census there is more than $48,354,857 worth of machinery on Kentucky farms, the average life of each piece of which is 15 to 20 years under proper housing conditions. When left exposed to the weather farm tools last only one-half as long, according to the results of experiments which show that a properly housed farm tool lasts 15 years while an improperly housed one lasts but a little more than seven and one-half years. On this basis failure to house their machinery causes farmers of the State a loss of $6,304,023 a year whereas the depreciation on machinery which is protected from the weather while idle is only $3,223,657.

Despite the heavy losses caused by leaving machinery exposed to weather conditions many farmers still fail to give it the proper protection after the season's work has been finished. Mr. Kelley said. Many farm implements are left in the fence corners, under trees or in fields where they were last used with the result that rust and the action of the different weather conditions contributed toward heavy damage.

To prevent this loss all machinery should be stored in a suitable house as soon as the season's work is done, care being taken in putting the implements and tools away that all parts are thoroughly cleaned and the bearings or any other parts that are apt to rust greased. Many farmers are finding it helpful to make a list of the broken or missing parts while storing the machinery so that these can be ordered during slack seasons. Plans for implements sheds are being sent out to farmers who wish them from the Experiment Station at Lexington.

Fall Plowing Will Kill Insect Pests

Many injurious insect pests that hibernate in the soil or rubbish about the farm or garden and escape death from insecticides because of their large numbers of particular methods of attacking plants may be controlled most easily by deep fall plowing according to recommendations made by entomologists at the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station to farmers of the State. Wire worms, cut worms, white grubs, or the young or June beetles, tobacco worms, army worms, plant bugs, grasshoppers, corn web-worms, corn ear-worms, clover leaf beetles, and a large number of small leaf hoppers are the particular ones which suffer from being exposed to the weather by plowing. According to the entomologists a study of these insects has shown that until some specific remedy is discovered for each one of these farmers will have to depend in a large degree on plowing, clean culture, crop rotation, and other practices as a means of protection. Plowing is perhaps the most important of these and can be followed profitably in Kentucky because of the periods of open weather during the fall and winter. Kentucky farmers have never used this method of control to the best advantage, the entomologists say.

Some of these insects, such as the wire worms, work only on the roots where sprays will not reach them. Others live within the stems of the plants where they are equally exempt from either poisons or contact insecticides while still others, like the cut worms and chinch bugs, work among the weeds and grasses where they escape the observation of the farmer. Flea beetles live over the winter on night shades. Smart weed, rag weed, purslane, foxtail and others harbor the corn root aphid. Plants bugs hibernate in all kinds of weeds and grasses. Old squash vines contain pupae of the squash borer and cabbage stocks furnish a hiding place for the cabbage louse and carry the eggs of this insect through the winter. Because of these facts it is important to destroy all crop remnants, burn fence rows and pick up loose materials that will furnish hiding places for the insects.

Where it is necessary to plow in order to destroy the insects this should be done deeply in order to bury many of the insects so that they are unable to get out in the spring and expose others to winter weather and natural enemies. Insects of this kind, like the tobacco worm, lying in their earthen cases go through the winter safe against frost much the same as the buried potato does because the change from freezing to thawing comes gradually. For this reason throwing them to the surface by plowing destroys many of them since they are subjected to sudden changes.

Farm And Home News From Over Kentucky

Fourteen culling demonstrations conducted in various communities of Washington county by County Agent R. M. Heath co-operating with the College of Agriculture extension division and farmers have been the means of teaching approximately 128 of them how to tell the loafer from the heavy-laying hen. A total of 262 culls were removed from 876 handled.

Calloway county farmers will give special attention to cover crops this fall, according to a report of County Agent J. B. Gardner. Community meetings which are being held to acquaint farmers with the value of these crops in protecting fields during the winter have been well attended, the report states.

With 35 members out of the 36 in the Fleming county pig club entered in the pig club show this event was one of the features of the county fair recently held at Ewing, a report from County Agent H. F. McKenney states. All of the animals were in excellent conditions, the winners in the pig club show taking first places in their classes in open competition.

More than 180 Carlisle county farmers have been taught how to distinguish between the laying and non-laying hen by means of eight poultry culling demonstrations recently held by County Agent B. A. Hensley in co-operation with the extension division of the College of Agriculture.

An exceptionally large acreage of cover crops is expected to be planted by Union county farmers this fall, a report from county agent A. M. Allen indicates. Many acres of rye already have been sown in corn fields.

Members of the Briar Hill Junior agricultural club in Fayette county are observing different methods of feeding and managing their pigs by visits to different members of the club. A recent meeting of the club was devoted to a tour in which all boys raising pigs were visited.

Better Stock Movement Making Rapid Progress

With 203 farmers in 20 counties of the State enrolled in the better sires-better stock campaign the movement for improved livestock in Kentucky is making rapid progress, according to a report of Wayland Rhoads, beef cattle extension specialist of the College of Agriculture. This number of farmers who are replacing scrub sires with purebreds is four times larger than it was August 1, Mr. Rhoads said. Christian county with 52 farmers enrolled leads all counties of the State in the movement. Fulton, Larue, Graves and Henderson follow in the order named.

Those enrolled are farmers who have agreed to use nothing but purebred sires on all their breeding stock. It is not necessary for farmers to keep all kinds of stock but all that is kept for breeding pur-

RELIEF FOR KENTUCKY FARMERS IN NEED OF READY CASH NOW SURE

U. S. Loan Agency to Advance Money on Crops and Live- stock of State

Louisville, Sept. 16.—Relief for Kentucky farmers in need of ready cash is on its way. The War Finance Corporation has announced
from Washington the appointment of sixteen agricultural loan committees throughout the United States to handle applications for loans under the congressional authorization making $1,000,000,000
available for agricultural and livestock advances.

Headquarters of one of the committees is Louisville, and James D.
Brown, president of the National Bank of Kentucky, of this city, will be its chairman.

Announcement of four other members of the committee was made in Washington today. They are John
W. Barr and Embury H. Swearingen, Louisville bankers; M. O. Hughes, farmer and capitalist, of Bowling Green, and General E. H. Wood, of Pageville, Allen County, a widely known cattle and stock raiser.

Mr. Hughes has been with the State College of Agriculture and been making his headquarters in Lexington.

Will Aid Business

"This act alone means more than anything that could possibly have been done to put activity into business," said Mr. Brown, "as the banks of the state are carrying around $30,000,000 in paper for loans on agricultural products and livestock. This burden will be lifted from the banks just as soon as the committee begins to function, which should be right away."

Mr. Brown said he had not been fully acquainted with the full details of the corporation's plans for the distribution of the big sum.
Under the arrangement, according to Mr. Brown, the district committees will not be empowered to make a loan beyond a year, but at maturity or before maturity of the loan the committee will be at liberty to extend the loan for a period of not exceeding three years.

To Meet Daily

"There will be a large committee
for each district and the chairman will preside at all meetings and have the power to fix the date of the meetings. The executive committee, of which the chairman will be a member, will meet daily," said
Mr. Brown.

"Under the present arrangement
the committee will be called the Agricultural and Livestock Loan Agency of the War Finance Corporation. Mr. Brown will name the secretary."

Mr. Brown said he believes the plans undoubtedly will include the financing of the tobacco growers.
The banks, trust companies and finance corporations now holding livestock and agricultural paper will be relieved of that burden as soon
as the committee begins to issue
loans.

"It all means that the buying power of the country will be increased $1,000,000,000 automatically and if there is anything on earth
that will help business that plan is it," said Mr. Brown.

IRISH PARLEY OFF; BUT MAY NEGOTIATE FURTHER

London, Sept. 15.—Prime Minister David Lloyd George tonight cancelled the arrangements for the international conference following receipt of Eamonn de Valera's letter which accepted the invitation to a conference but reiterated Ireland's independence.

The fact that Premier Lloyd George is suffering from a chill was confirmed at his official residence in Downing Street tonight. It was also announced that it would be necessary for the Premier to remain indoors for a few days.

As the Prime Minister has repeatedly declared that he would not consider the separation of Ireland
from the Empire, and as Mr. de Valera has said that "it is only as representatives of a sovereign State
that we have any authority to act on behalf of our people," Mr. Lloyd George felt the negotiations would be useless, and tonight telegraphed
a notification of the cancellation of the meeting to the Irish leader.

Even in some official circles in London a belief was expressed that some interpretation had been agreed on between Mr. Lloyd George and the Irish messengers who saw him at Gairloch Tuesday night which may reconcile the apparent conflict between the English and Irish positions.

The Premier is careful not to close the door to possible resumption of the negotiations. On the contrary, he gives Mr. de Valera and his supporters the amplest time and opportunity to reconsider their position; he describes himself even
as "laid up" at Gairloch, necessitating a few days' delay.

He Reproaches Ireland

Declaring that there was but one answer to a claim which would be equivalent to Great Britain's acknowledging Ireland's right to negotiate a treaty of closer association with "some other foreign power," he mildly reproaches the Irish people for taking no single step to meet the generous advances of the British Government.

The whole tone of the letter, in fact, reveals that the Premier still retains hope of some more favorable development.

RECORD CROWD AT STATE FAIR

Twenty-five States, Besides Kentucky, Represented in the Huge Crowd

Louisville, Ky., Sept. 15.—Today
saw the greatest crowd in the history of the state fair. Thursday's attendance last year was 54,341—
the previous record.

By 7 o'clock tonight, as the size
of the multitude reached its peak,
all the main avenues of the fair grounds were slow moving human rivers impossible to breast. It was hot, too. The fair grounds thermometer maintained an Al Wilson
altitude all day.

Twenty-five states, besides Kentucky, were represented in the crowd, registration at the "hospitality headquarters" of the Young Business Men's league showed. The fair already has brought 15,000
visitors to the city, as far as the registration book indicates and, of course, not all the visitors have registered.

It is estimated there were about 8,000 automobiles parked on the grounds. The cars, closely parked,
covered approximately twenty acres.
At 3 o'clock in the afternoon every designated parking place had been filled.

Governor Morrow was the guest of honor and he spent an extremely active day in that capacity.

HENDERSON TO HAVE COMMISSION FORM

Henderson, Ky., Sept. 15.— Judge Dorsey gave his decision on the commission form of government in Henderson this morning, holding that the election had been properly
advertised, which was the vital question in the suit.

He said that with the court of appeals upholding his previous ruling,
he is compelled to hold the election
valid.

It was rumored today following the decision of the court that John Atkinson Cunningham would throw
his hat in the mayor's race.

MAIL SERVICE TO RUSSIA IS RESUMED

Washington, Sept. 15.—Opening of parcels post service to Russia,
thereby completing mail service
from the United States to that country, was announced today by the postoffice department.

First class mail service to Russia was opened last April and with the resumption of parcel post service all classes of mail, except registered letters and packages, may be mailed in the United States to any point in Russia.

ODD FELLOWS OF STATE MEET AT LEXINGTON

Lexington, Ky., Sept. 15.—More than 3,000 Odd Fellows, their relatives and friends from all over Central Kentucky are in Lexington today to attend the annual I. O. O. F.
picnic at Gratz Woods on the Georgetown Pike. John W. Douglas, Owenton, grand master of Kentucky, is present and was to be one of the speakers. A feature of the programme was a street parade in which members of local lodges and visitors participated.

BODIES OF ZR-2 VICTIMS WILL ARRIVE EARLY TODAY

New York, Sept. 15.—The British cruiser Dauntless, bearing the bodies of the Americans who lost their lives when the dirigible ZR-2 collapsed on August 24, will arrive
here tomorrow, according to wireless messages received tonight at the New York navy yard.

The Dauntless will be escorted into the harbor by a fleet of destroyers and aircraft and will dock at the navy yards. Later in the day a memorial service will be held.

If one of the "fire putters-out" of Stanley's Administration, so ridiculed by Governor Morrow in his campaign in 1919, had been present and functioning in Louisville in this year of grace, he might have been able to save the Governor the recent loss of his pajamas when he went to sleep while smoking a cigarette in bed at the Seelbach Hotel. A porter claimed that he had to carry Gov. Ed out of the flames to safety. An official "fire putter-out" surely could have done as well.

The era of the political "mud slinger" has not passed. The contemptible attempt of the Republican machine of Louisville, to besmirch the reputation of Overton Harris, Democratic nominee for Mayor of that city by false and suggestive innuendos that he had been detected playing the part of a "roadside Romeo," has aroused the disgust of all fair-minded Kentuckians. Such scurrilous attacks upon the character of such a gentleman as Mr. Harris, just for political effect, can come only from the lowest and dirtiest instincts of partisanship. The mere silliness of such conduct on the part of Mr. Harris is enough to brand the charge as false. Yet the Republican papers, big and little, yap and yammer as much as they dare. They are too cowardly to make the direct charge, but content themselves with the craven weapon of innuendo. But the people believe in fair play.

In a political advertisement in Sunday's Owensboro Messenger Judge Slack makes a play for the votes of Ohio County Democrats by quoting an editorial in that paper on November 4, 1917 in regard to the action of the Court of Appeals in sustaining his decision in the notorious "keep 'em off the ballot" case in this county just before the last county election. After saying that his decision was correct on technical legal grounds the Messenger adds: "His, (Judge Slack's,) opinion of the Ohio County tricksters no doubt is the same as that of every other fair man in Kentucky. But he was not privileged to express it in trying the case." The Judge now has that privilege. Nothing stands in the way of his telling the voters that he thinks the Democrats of Ohio County were "tricked" out of their right of franchise in 1917. What about it Judge Slack? Is the Messenger right about your opinion of the Republican leaders of Ohio County?

CAMOUFLAGE

It is being claimed by the friends of Judge R. W. Slack, the Republican candidate for Circuit Judge in this district, that he has administered that office in a non-partisan manner. By this means they hope to inveigle some Democrats into voting for him this fall. But unfortunately for the Judge this claim cannot be substantiated. The appointive positions that the Circuit Judge can fill are Master Commissioner, Trustee of the Jury Fund and Jury Commissioners. The latter cannot be in session more than five days during the year and are paid two dollars per day. Judge Slack has appointed two Democrats and one Republican one year and the next two Republican and one Democrat, thus alternating throughout his term. Good and well, and as it should be. But these positions amount to practically nothing in the way of remuneration. What about the paying appointments? Judge Slack has appointed a Republican as Master Commissioner and Trustee of the Jury Fund in every county in the district. A poor record on which to base a claim of non-partisanship!

The non-partisan plea of Judge Slack's supporters is also belied by the advertisements of the Ohio County Republican Campaign Committee of certain speaking dates for him. We respect His Honor and we intend to fight fair against him, relying on facts, not on camouflage and we expect his supporters to do likewise.

BIG BUILDING BOOM IN BEAVER DAM

Building has been the order of the day in Beaver Dam for the past few months and the boom continues with unabated interest. The following are some of the buildings most recently begun or completed:

Mr. E. J. Tilford is constructing a two-story brick restaurant building on the site where his former business house burned some months ago. Mr. Charles Peters and brother have completed a single-story brick restaurant building on the site where the Commercial Hotel burned. They are now occupying this as a restaurant.

Mr. E. Morgan James is nearing the completion of a single-story brick building to be used as a barber shop. This is also on the site where the hotel burned.

Mr. T. J. Barrass has well under way a building on the site of his business house burned sometime ago. When completed this will be occupied by the Beaver Dam Drug Co. This leaves only two vacant lots in the row where the fire did such havoc a few months ago.

Mr. Gordon Chinn is now occupying his residence recently completed in Sowders' addition. The building is of the bungalow type.

Mr. W. B. Wise is constructing a cottage in South Beaver Dam.

REDFORD BEAN SUCCEUMS

Mr. Redford Bean died at his residence, near Narrows, Tuesday, Sept. 13th, after several months' suffering from a peculiar disease of the left side of his head. He had been treated by some of the best specialists of the state and only recently returned from a Louisville hospital, where he underwent various operations in an effort to check the ravages of the disease.

Mr. Bean was 47 years of age at the time of his death. He was a member of the M. E. Church, South, and was one of the county's best citizens. He was engaged at different periods of his life as pharmacist, merchant and farmer.

His wife and three children survive. His eldest son, Dewey, is now serving in the U. S. Navy.

The body was laid to rest Wednesday, in Axton burying ground, in the presence of a host of mourning friends and relatives.

OHIO COUNTY WATER AND LIGHT CONTRACT

Regular Term—Ohio County Fiscal Court January 4th, 1921.

Present: Hon. Maek Cook, J. O. C. C.

Justices: B. F. Rice, B. C. Rhoads, W. C. Daugherty, Ed Shown, G. W. Rowe, W. S. Dean, Q. B. Brown, O. E. Scott and A. D. Kirk, County Attorney.

This day came M. L. Heavrin, representing Kentucky Light and Power Company, incorporated, and filed contract which is in words and figures as follows:

"This contract made and entered into between A. D. Kirk, as Committee for and on behalf of Ohio County, and Ohio County, party of the first part, and the Kentucky Light and Power Company, a corporation, of the second part:

Witnesseth, That whereas Ohio County has constructed toilets, urinals and sinks at the Court House and jail and jailer's residence, the party of the second part hereby agrees and contracts to furnish to said County all water necessary for its use at said places as now constructed, which water shall be furnished to said County at street curbs and from that point through pipe lines furnished by said County, for which services the said County of Ohio agrees and contracts to pay the sum of $60.00 per month, and party of the second part further agrees and contracts to furnish electric current for use at the Court House, for which it shall receive 17 cents per K. W. hour, the minimum to be $1.50 per month, and it will be entitled to use 9 K. W. for same; that it will also furnish current at the jail and jailer's residence at 17 cents per K. W. hour, the minimum for jail and jailer's residence to be $1.50 per month, and shall be entitled to use 9 K. W. for same, and the above sums shall be due and payable on the first day of each month and the County Clerk is ordered and directed to draw warrants for said amount in payment of same.

It is agreed and contracted that this contract shall be and remain in full force and effect from January 1st, 1921, until January 1st, 1925, being a period of four years.

It is further agreed and understood that this contract does not cover fire protection, and Kentucky Light and Power Company is not to be responsible for loss on account of fire.

It is further agreed that this contract shall supersede and take place of any and all contracts heretofore made.

Witness our signatures in duplicate, this December 27th, 1920.

OHIO COUNTY,
By A. D. KIRK, Committee.
Kentucky Light and Power Co.
By M. L. HEAVRIN, President.

And moved the Court to approve and ratify said contract; Ayes and Nays being called resulted as follows:

Rice, Yes; Rhoads, Yes; Scott,

Yes; Shown, Yes; Knott, Yes; Brown, Yes; Dean, No; Daugherty, Yes; Motion carried and it is therefore ordered and adjudged by the Court that said contract be and it is approved.

WAR DEPARTMENT ENCOURAGES BETTER HORSE BREEDING

Furnishes Thoroughbred Stallion Service Free; Pays Liberal Prices For Foals. Many Kentucky Farmers Owning Thoroughbred Mares Find Breeding More Profitable Than Farming.

No farmer, breeder or other good citizen who owns a good mare should fail to realize the fact that he may have an actual pocketbook interest in the present plans of the Government to improve our horses and stimulate the production of them.

While special effort is being made not to place the Government's thoroughbred stallions in sections where they will conflict or compete with privately-owned thoroughbred horses, conditions with respect to the important question of "breeding up" already are markedly better—so much so that few owners of acceptable brood mares have not now ready access to the services of a tried, and otherwise excellent, thoroughbred stallion.

The Government is rapidly acquiring a sufficient number of these horses, both by the gift of patriotic breeders and by purchase. All are good sound individuals, registered in stud books—they are horses of all-round superiority; having been acquired either by reason of their accomplishments on the turf or their pedigrees.

Each is available for public service on very liberal terms. Owners of sound mares with a square trotting gait may breed to them free of charge, provided the Government is given an option on the foal at three years of age for $150.00. This option, however, will be waived or cancelled upon payment of a nominal fee. Thus, the owner is free to choose his market, which he may often do at a handsome profit. "Lately," remarked a farmer from Shelby County on the train with whom the writer chanced to be, "a colt or filly from one of my three thoroughbred mares nets me more profit than a season's work on the old place."

Jack and mule dealers also should avail themselves of the opportunity to breed to these thoroughbred sires.

Never was the time when good, useful horses were so scarce and so sought after. They are wanted for the army, on our farms, and in commercial pursuits. This, despite the motor-driven vehicle.

The following table of statistics, a compilation by the National Association of Allied Horse Interests, Providence, R. I., graphically illustrates the increasing demand for the horse in eleven cities representing a combined population of more than 2,880,000:

	Number of Horse-Driven Vehicles Licensed for Business Purposes in Eleven Cities During 1910, 1911, 1912, Showing Percent of Increase, Decrease Per Cent
	1910	1911	1912	1910-1912
Baltimore, Md.	15,421	15,538	15,680	1.679
Boston, Mass.	15,833	16,656	17,100	8.00
Buffalo, N. Y.	11,778	11,718	11,900	1.04
Galveston, Texas	1,718	1,742	2,188	27.81
Mobile, Ala.	1,217	1,311	1,320	8.46
Pittsburg, Pa.	10,264	10,003	11,148	8.61
Providence, R. I.	5,321	7,894	9,044	69.95
Richmond, Va.	3,360	3,452	3,514	4.58
Vicksburg, Miss.	140	160	150	7.14
Worcester, Mass.	317	381	1,783	148.58
Salt Lake City, Utah	502	510	1,055	110.16

The United States Government—adopting the attitude arrived at long since by the far older and more experienced European countries—now, fully realizes that the loss, or even the stultification, of the thoroughbred industry would be a national calamity. Meanwhile, the impetus of government participation in the work of increase and betterment of our supply of horses and mules is of particular significance to Kentucky farmers—they are in position to reap a personal business advantage, besides rendering a patriotic service to the country as a whole.

Buying Hosiery and Underwear With Perfect Confidence of Future Service and Satisfaction

In all their dealings with this store we want our customers to realize that value, service and satisfaction are things that they can absolutely depend upon getting.

We select our merchandise with this thought ever in mind; consequently when we recommend

Allen A Black Cat Hosiery

we are promising a service that is far above the ordinary; vastly better, in fact, than can be found elsewhere.

ALLEN A Black Cat Hosiery for Men, Women and Children, in silk, lisle, wool or cotton, represents a hosiery value that is genuine. It is sold in the better class stores everywhere; and best of all, it actually costs no more than any high grade merchandise of this character ought to cost.

Most men—and women—these days have pretty clearly defined ideas regarding the quality of things they buy to eat, to wear or to furnish the home. It is this class of buyers we like to cater to. The more they know about these things the more readily they appreciate the superior fit, style, quality, value and service of ALLEN A merchandise—which we sell.

TOM MIX

"After Your Own Heart"

One of MIX'S best Westerns. Boys, it's a humdinger. A picture where airplanes and autos, as well as horses, are used. Tom Mix handles his machines just as well as he does his horses. You will see stunts you never saw before. A story of the West, brimful of Tom Mix's experiences as a cowboy. Plenty of action and thrill.

"Nomads of The North"

A story of the Great Northwest. In this, not only select human stars, but stars from the lower animal kingdom, making it one of the most interesting and entertaining pictures ever offered. You remember "River's End." This is a story written by the same author and will be just as interesting. Beyond the power of the tongue, within the sight of your eyes soon.

A. J. CASEY, WHO MARRIED FORMER HARTFORD GIRL, DIES IN NASHVILLE

Andrew Jackson Casey, whose wife was, before her marriage, Miss Lydia Walker, daughter of the late Hon. E. D. Walker, of Hartford, died at St. Thomas' Hospital, in Nashville, Monday night. He had been in poor health for a number of months. Mr. Casey is survived by his wife, and two sons, Walker, of Nashville, and Dudley English, of Memphis. Mr. R. D. Walker, of this place, is a brother-in-law and Mrs. J. Edwin Rowe, of Hawesville, a sister-in-law. Mr. Casey was well known and popular here and his bereaved family have the sympathy of his many local friends.

His body arrived in Hartford yesterday afternoon, accompanied by his widow and sons. Interment was in the Walker family lot at Orkwood Cemetery, after a short funeral service, conducted by Rev. Russell Walker, at the grave-side.

Mr. Casey was about sixty years of age and had led a very useful and busy life. He was a journalist by profession, having published or edited papers at Russellville, Hopkinsville and Owensboro in this state and at Lebanon, Tenn., where he resided at the time of his death. He was in the printing business at Nashville for a number of years and for two years was the owner and publisher of the Owensboro Inquirer.

MRS. BERTIE RIAL

Mrs. Bertie Rial died at her home near No Creek last Thursday morning after an illness of several months. She underwent an operation in May and seemed to improve for a time, but soon relapsed and had been hovering between life and death for several weeks. Funeral services were conducted at the No Creek Methodist Church by her pastor, Rev. H. W. Landreth, on Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment was in the Carson Graveyard. An unusual feature of the funeral was the fact that the pall-bearers were all cousins of the deceased and the choir was composed of her cousins.

Mrs. Rial was forty-seven years of age and is survived by one daughter, Mrs. R. E. Benham, an infant grandchild, one sister, Miss Opelia Ward, and four brothers, Messrs. Dillis E., W. G., E. C. and Haz Ward, all of the No Creek community. The bereaved family have the sympathy of the whole community.

MRS. ANGIE LEACH

Mrs. Angie Leach, one of Ohio County's best and most respected women, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. D. Lee Barnes, Beaver Dam, at 6 p. m., Monday. Her death was due to diseases incident to old age. Her first marriage was to Martin Porter. In later years she became the wife of John Leach. She is survived by two children, Mack Porter, and Mrs. D. Lee Barnes both of Beaver Dam.

The funeral was conducted from the Baptist church, at 3 o'clock p. m. Tuesday, by Rev. C. C. Daves, pastor. The body was then laid to rest in Sunnyside cemetery.

In the death of Mrs. Leach Beaver Dam and community lose a noble Christian woman. We extend our deepest sympathy to the bereaved.

THIEVES AGAIN INVADE CITY OF BEAVER DAM

Some time Sunday night thieves entered the store of J. T. Vinson & Son, at Beaver Dam, and carried away about $250.00 worth of merchandise, but did not obtain any money. The missing goods consists of clothing, shoes, hats, raincoats and other wearing apparel for men. The entrance was made by breaking the lock on the rear door.

Monday night as a freight train stopped at McHenry, two men carrying bundles attempted to get on board but seeing two railroad detectives beat a hasty retreat leaving a part of their packages. These bundles were opened and found to contain about $150.00 worth of the articles stolen from Vinson's store. All points within a wide radius have been notified and a close watch is being made for the burglars.

Mr. Vinson's store was entered by robbers several months ago and one of the thieves is now serving a term in the penitentiary.

TAFFY MATRON DEAD

Mrs. Prudie Sowers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Butler C. Rhoads, of Taffy, died at her home early Monday morning of typhoid fever. She is survived by her husband, parents, five brothers and one sister.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. R. E. Fuqua at the Clear Run Church yesterday morning at 11 o'clock. Interment was in the near-by cemetery.

The sympathy of the community goes out to the bereaved family in their hour of sorrow.

THE STUFF OF LIFE

This is from an advertisement for a typesetting machine, but it gives a vivid picture of the news that makes the country papers place secure: Babies are born. Little boys in broad ties and little girls in bright frocks have their birthday parties. Lovers wed. Company comes. Folks go visiting. Men and women grow old, droop and die.

A GOOD FRIEND

A good friend stands by you when in need. Hartford people tell how Doan's Kidney Pills have stood the test. Miss Emma E. Park, of Washington St., endorsed Doan's four years ago and again confirms the story. Could you ask for more convincing testimony? "I can certainly praise Doan's Kidney Pills because they are an excellent kidney remedy," says Miss Park. I suffered with a dull backache and dizziness. Black spots came before my eyes and my kidneys didn't act right. Mornings I got up feeling tired and worn out. I learned of Doan's Kidney Pills through the newspapers and started their use. This remedy did me a lot of good and I consider it excellent." (Statement given November 16, 1916.)

On January 25, 1921, Miss Park said: "It is not often I feel the need of Doan's Kidney Pills since I publicly endorsed them in 1916. When I do have a little trouble with my kidneys, a few Doan's never fail to promptly cure me. I am glad at any time to tell others about Doan's."

Price 60c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Miss Park had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

S. C. BAKER, 37 2nd Route 2, Beaver Dam, Ky.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Mr. Edsel B. Ford, President of the Ford Motor Company, makes the following announcement:

"We are making another reduction in the prices of Ford cars and Ford trucks, effective today. The new prices average $70.00 under former prices, and are the lowest at which Ford cars and trucks have ever been sold.

List prices, F. O. B. Detroit, are now as follows:

	NEW PRICE	OLD PRICE	AMOUNT OF REDUCTION
Chassis.....	$295	$345	$ 50
Runabouts.....	$325	$370	$ 45
Touring Car.....	$355	$415	$ 60
Truck.....	$445	$495	$ 50
Coupe.....	$595	$695	$100
Sedan.....	$660	$760	$100

"This is the third price cut during the past twelve months. On September 22, 1920, the price of the Ford Touring Car was reduced from $575 to $440; June 7th to $415, and now to $355, making total reductions of this type of $220, or 38 per cent. The same proportionate reductions have been made in all other types. One year ago the price of the Ford Sedan was $975; today it lists at $660 with the same equipment.

"We are taking advantage of every known economy in the manufacture of our products in order that we may give them to the public at the lowest possible price, and by doing that, we feel that we are doing the one big thing that will help this country into more prosperous times. People are interested in prices, and are buying when prices are right.

"The Production of Ford cars and trucks for August again broke all previous high records with the totals reaching 117,696. This is the fourth consecutive month in which our output has gone over the hundred thousand mark, the total for the four months being 463,074, which has gone a long way in making possible the present reductions. June this year, with an output of 117,247 was the previous record month.

"One noteworthy feature of our sales is the increased demand for Ford trucks and cars for salesmen. This class of commercial business has been gradually increasing the past sixty days and we interpret it as a good sign of improvement in general business.

"No reduction has been made in the price of the Ford Tractor, and none is contemplated."

Go over these new prices! See how little it costs to become the owner of a Ford Car or a Ford Truck. Can you really afford to do without one any longer?

Let us tell you more about it and advise you regarding the delivery of the particular type car in which you are interested.

YOUR NAME IN THE PAPER

Every man and woman likes to see his name in the paper and the editor likes to print it. Some say they object to publicity. But do they? The Atchison Globe tells of a young man who entered its office. "I was intensely shocked to read a notice of my engagement," he said. "I cannot tell you how shocked I was. I was positively chagrined. My fiancée was chagrined. We were all chagrined. How much for 50 copies of the paper?"

JACKSON MORRIS WINS
HONORS WITH RIFLE

Frankfort, Ky., Sept. 15.—Adj.
Gen. Jackson Morris, who returned
today from Camp Perry, Ohio,
where the National Rifle Matches
are under way, carried off third
honors in a free for all standing,
off hand match at 200 yards against 648 competitors. He made 92 out of a possible 100 bullseyes. The winner made 94. General Morris will receive a medal and part of the $1,000 prize money. He is debarred
by his rank from the National Guard
and Civilian teams.

200 GALLONS OF HOME WINE
MAY BE MADE YEARLY

Washington, Sept. 15.—Internal Revenue Bureau officials frankly acknowledge today that heads of families may, upon the filing of notification with local Revenue Collectors, manufacture 200 gallons of wine yearly for home use.

Treasury regulations making effective such a provision of the law
were issued by Internal Revenue Commissioner Roper, with the approval of Secretary McAdoo, in October, 1918, and because of the general lack of public knowledge

respecting the provision Congress
never has enacted legislation nullifying it, officials said.

The law applies specifically to exemption from payment of tax, officials pointed out, but in its application makes manufacture of wine at home possible provided the manufacture is by the head of the family and the wine produced be not sold or otherwise removed from the place of manufacture.

GREEN RIVER TOBACCO
PROSPECTS ARE GOOD

Owensboro, Ky., Sept. 15.—Tobacco crop conditions in Daviess County, compared with those in the Eastern market, from which he has just come to Owensboro for a few days' investigation in the interest of his business, impress J. E. Bowling, tobacco merchant, with the splendid possibilities here for the tobacco grower this year. Mr. Bowling has just returned from the South Carolina tobacco markets and said that while inferior tobacco brought very unsatisfactory prices there, the good grades were selling at prices pleasing to the growers.

Crops in North Carolina are very common, Mr. Bowling says, and will likely bring poor prices. The Virginia market is also reported an inferior quality this year and it is manifest now that the Eastern market as a whole will furnish a light
crop and an especially common one,
according to Mr. Bowling.

The Green River crop is said to be the finest grown for years. Tobacco is curing up well, of nice
color, good length and heavy body.
Farmers are busy cutting and by Saturday more than one-half of the crop of over 30,000,000 pounds of weed in the district will be in the barns. The market will open here
December 5.

FALLING-OFF IN RAILROAD TRAVEL

Washington, Sept. 14.—The traveling public paid 168 railroads $573,234,211 in passenger fares under the increased rates for the first six months of this year as against $564,586,242 for the first six months of 1920, before the increase
went into effect, the Interstate Commerce commission announced today.
The fares were paid by 522,195,000
persons as compared with 595,771,000
for the same period in 1920, the average journey for the 1921 period
being 35.04 as against 36.41 miles for the 1920 period. Each traveler paid an average of 3.133 cents a mile for his railroad transportation
this year, as against 2.603 for the first six months of 1920.

Freight revenues for the first six months of 1921 totalled $1,863,336, 308 as against $1,860,948,323
for the 1920 period. The tonnage, however, dropped from 1,020, 118,000
in the 1920 period to 779,360,000
for the first six months of 1921.
The average haul for the 1921 period was 187.09 miles per ton, as against 186.93 for the same period
in 1920.

SAYS PACKERS ATTEMPT
MONOPOLY OF FOOD SUPPLY

New York, Sept. 14.—Sylvan L.
Stix, treasurer of the National Wholesale Grocers' association, in behalf of its 4,000 members, tonight issued a statement charging that the "big five" meat packers of Chicago, again were attempting to obtain control of the entire general
food supply of the country.

He also asserted that apparently the "big five" would have "the active support of the attorney general's office in scrapping the governmental restrictions that were thrown around the "big five" by the Wilson administration, after years of public agitation." He expressed fear that within a week Attorney General Daugherty might set aside those provisions of the government's "consent decree," entered into with the packers in 1920 whereby the "big five" agreed to restrict themselves to the handling of meat
and meat products.

"The idea that the department of justice of the United States should clear the way for the development of an enormous, compact food trust to dominate if not monopolize all of the nation's foodstuffs is unthinkable," Mr. Stix said. "The National Wholesale Grocers' association
hears that the attorney general has been won over to this strange attitude because of his sympathy for conditions that have been alleged to exist in California. He has received an application purporting to represent the views of certain California
owners, indicating that an "emergency" exists and that unless the
"big five" meat packers are allowed to buy and move their crops that the growers and consumers will be greatly injured."

Mr. Stix then denied that an emergency existed, asserting that California crops were being moved through usual channels and also denied that the "big five" by the "consent decree," were at present
prevented from buying and marketing the crops.

"In the first place," he said, "the consent decree has never been in effect, is not now in effect and will not be until February 27. The 'big five' are entirely free at this time
to move the California crops."

AMERICAN CHOSEN JUDGE
OF LEAGUE COURT

Geneva, Sept. 14.—The bench of the international court of justice
elected by the assembly and council of the League of Nations today appears to give general satisfaction to the delegations with few exceptions.
Eleven judges were chosen as follows:

John Bassett Moore, United States;
Viscount Finlay, Great Britain; Dr.
Yorozu Oda, Japan; Dr. Andre Weiss
France; Commendatore Dionisio
Anzilotti, Italy; Dr. Ruy Barbosa,
Brazil; Dr. B. T. C. Loder, Holland;
Antonio S. Debustamente, Cuba;
Judge Didrik Nyholm, Denmark;
Dr. Max Huber, Switzerland, and
Dr. Rafael Altamira Y. Crevea, Spain.

The bench represents all four of the great systems of jurisprudence
and nearly every race and tongue in the assembly.

The American candidate, John Bassett Moore, was chosen on the second ballot. His election provoked

the greatest applause of the day.

Three deputy judges have been definitely elected so far. They are Demetriu Negulescu, of Rumania; Michailo Jovanovic, of Jugo-Sla-
via, and Mr. Wang, of China.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases
put together, and for years it was suplocal remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced

it incurable. Catarrh is a local disease,

WOMEN PREACHERS NEEDED
TO INTEREST MEN IN CHURCH

Chicago, Sept. 15.—If there were more women preachers in the pulpits, there would be more men in the churches. Miss M. Madeline Southard, president of the International Association of Women Preachers, told members of that organization at their convention here.
Miss Southard accused men of "feminizing the church" and asserted that if there were more women preachers, more men would become interested in church work.

Quoting Frances Willard, she said:

"Men have been preaching for 2,000 years and the large majority of their converts have been women.
Suppose that women should share
the preaching power, would not the majority of their converts be men?"

EDUCATION BOARD MEETS; CHAIRMAN HILL RESIGNS

The Ohio County Board of Education held a meeting, Monday, with all members present except Mr. R. A. Owen, who was unable to attend because of sickness in his family. Mr. W. S. Hill, Chairman of the board resigned as a member, the resignation to take effect, Oct. 15th. Mr. Hill will attend Western Kentucky State Normal School this fall.

Only matters of minor importance were passed upon by the board at this meeting.

LOCAL PYTHIANS ATTEND DISTRICT CONVENTION

Messrs. John Allen Wilson, Noah Lee Rowe, Albert Rial, A. K. Anderson, S. T. Barnett, Fred Belcher and Judge John B. Wilson, representing Rough River Lodge No. 110, Knights of Pythias, of this place, attended the District Convention of the order, held at Central City last Wednesday afternoon and evening. The trip proved both pleasant and profitable to the local delegation.

HICKEY—SHOWN

Miss Blanche Hickey, of Hartford, R. F. D. No. 1, and Mr. Golden Shown, of Hartford, R. F. D. No. 5, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony at the bride's residence, last Wednesday. Rev. T. T. Frazier, pastor of Hartford Methodist church, performed the ceremony. Only a few special friends were present.

The bride is the beautiful and accomplished daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Hickey. The groom is an industrious and progressive young man and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Shown. Their many friends wish them a life of happiness and success.

FIRE NEAR ROSINE

At about 12 o'clock Friday night, fire of supposed incendiary origin destroyed a barn and contents belonging to Mr. Tom Ragland, near Rosine. The barn consisted of double cribs with sheds. Contents destroyed were 150 bushels of old corn, new Ford automobile, wheat drill, new wagon, several hundred feet of lumber, number of plows and other farming implements.

The total loss is estimated at $1500.00. He carried only about $400.00 on the property destroyed.

OHIO COUNTY FAIR

The annual Ohio County Fair was held here last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. The racing was fairly good and the shows and other amusements were of a higher type than is usual at county fairs. Thursday's crowd was small, Friday's attendance only fair, but on Saturday an exceedingly large number of people attended.

There were nine white and two colored applicants for teacher's certificate at the regular September examination, Friday and Saturday.

Evening Well Spent.

"Did you find the lecture interesting?"

"Yes," said Mr. Crippins. "I don't know yet what the lecturer was driving at, but he cleared up one important point for me."

"What was that?"

"I learned how to pronounce Czechoslovakia."

A Long-Distance Worrier.

"Is Mr. Gawping a public-spirited citizen?"

"I don't know about that," said Mr. Gadspar. "He can overlook more evils here at home and express more indignation in a letter to the editor about conditions in central Europe, China, Yip and the South seas than any other man I ever knew."
